NOTICE.

DDOL

On left side or hip.
Any person disposing of cattle in the above brands without written authority from me will be prosecuted to the extent of the law.
J. W. DRISKILL.

Any person finding cattle with this brand, straying, will be suitably rewarded by notifying A. Kiehne, at camp on Salt Fork, or the undersigned, at Junction City Kas.
2-15-3m W. M. HURST.

Stock Men, Attention!

Having opened a general store at Buffalo Station, K. P. R. W., on the trail leading to Ogilish Agency, stock men can obtain all kinds of goods and produce from me at Dodge City prices and avoid 150 miles of unnecessary transportation.
J. L. THOMPSON.

To Stock Shippers!

Having been engaged in the business of shipping stock for the past season from this point to Kansas City, and having given entire satisfaction to shippers, I therefore intend to follow the same this season and make it a special business. Soliciting the patronage of all stock men, the undersigned will be found at the Western House, Dodge City. Also branding and handling of cattle made a specialty.
J. W. DAWSON.

The Best Point.

[From the Harvey County News.]

The farmers of Ellis county are fighting the Texas cattle trade. Texas cattle men will find Dodge City their best point for shipment after all.

Parson Brownlow died in the rooms in which he was confined by the Confederates, and where General Grant visited him. He refused liquor to sustain him, bravely determined to die as he had lived, true to what seemed to him right.

The editorial association of this State will meet in Leavenworth next Wednesday and Thursday, and will start on an excursion to the Rocky Mountains to be gone ten days.

Mr. Gardiner passed through here from Fort Elliott last Thursday on his way East. He has been in the employ of Lieut. Wetherell, quartermaster of Fort Elliott, for some time. He says Lieut. Wetherell has been exonerated from the accusations made against him in connection with Goodfellow, so far as his duties as an officer were concerned.

We had almost forgotten we had a Congressman in this "deestrick," but it seems we surely have, and he is getting to the joint, too, as a correspondent from Washington says:

Hon. Thos. Ryan and wife are in the city. Mr. Ryan is looking after some little matters which many men seem to forget, and in this I see the mark of a man who clearly understands his business and the interests of his constituents. The man who knows his rights and fails to demand them has no business in Congress and clearly none in Washington. Mr. Ryan sets out with the true ring and must be successful.

City Attorney Colborn returned from Topeka and Leavenworth last Monday morning, after a week's absence. While in Topeka he consulted leading attorneys in regard to the Blake suit against this city. This suit is one of great importance, and will be represented, on both sides, by able legal talent. Mr. Colborn spent a day or two at Leavenworth visiting Geo. H. Anthony, Chief Clerk of the State Penitentiary. He says the "pen." contains a good many curiosities. Over three hundred of the convicts are confined for horse stealing. The institution must be well conducted, as one of the convicts whose time expired last week was so well pleased with the treatment he received as to regret leaving. But perhaps it would not be best for this fact to be generally known, as it would have a tendency to encourage lawlessness. George H. Anthony is a son of the Governor, and makes an efficient Chief Clerk.

Time For June.

The 5th to 8th, falling barometer and rising temperature, clouding and threatening, with local rains; 8th to 10th, rising barometer and falling temperature, (we remark, here, in parenthesis, that the worst storm which ever visited this section was the storm of Illinois editors which visited us on Friday last during the flood) clouding and threatening, with local rains; 10th to 15th, falling barometer and rising temperature, clouding and threatening weather with heavy rains and severe storms in places; 15th and 16th, rising barometer and falling temperature, generally clear; 16th to 20th, falling barometer and rising temperature, clouding and threatening, with local storms; 21st and 22nd, rising barometer and falling temperature, generally clear; 23d to 25th, falling barometer and rising temperature, clouding and threatening, with heavy rains and severe storms in places; 26th and 27th, rising barometer and falling temperature, generally clear or fair weather; 27th to 30th, falling barometer and rising temperature, clouding and threatening, with heavy local rain storms. The warmest weather will be about the 2nd, 7th, 12th, 18th, 24th and 29th. The coldest weather will be about the 4th, 8th, 15th and 20th.

EDITORS ON THE WING.

They Stop and View the Sights and Scenes of the Wonderful City of Dodge.

Owing to a washout about twenty-seven miles west of town the train bearing the excursion party of Illinois editors who passed here yesterday morning was compelled to return and lay over until the damage could be repaired. They were delayed here about fifteen hours. The rain which had been falling for a day or two past and still continued, made it disagreeable for them to get around much and caused everything to look dismal for the time. But trusting this cloud to have a silver lining, they made the best of it, and cheerful good humor prevailed.

They are a fine appearing, intelligent party, and conduct themselves in a manner which reflects credit on the fraternity of the great State of Illinois.

We were pleased to welcome a large number of them to the TIMES office and give them what information we could in regard to this to them wild portion of the far West.

Mr. J. W. Bailey, President of the Illinois Press Association, Mr. C. B. Bostwick, Secretary, Mr. E. B. Buck and Mr. S. P. Rounds, of the Executive Committee, Col. D. L. Phillips, of the Springfield Republican, Chas. Bent, of the Morrison Sentinel, Lucien Dunbar, of the Charleston Plaindealer and C. R. Williams, of St. Louis, are among those of which we are led to make special mention. There were many others who called, but owing to the confusion we failed to get their names and places properly located. The rain continued so incessantly as to prevent the most of the ladies from leaving the cars, which fact we very much regret.

The entire party resumed their journey this morning with fair weather and bright prospects for pleasure ahead. Maj. T. J. Anderson, the renowned Passenger Agent, was with them, and whatever he goes fun and merriment follow.

The following is a list of the names of the excursionists:
